ABOLITION AFLOAT

Bristol became immensely wealthy through its involvement with Transatlantic Slavery and later played an important role in its Abolition.

On this trip, we experience this history from the point of view of a ship's boy, and through his eyes explore the dark side of Bristol's history and its global and local legacies.

BRUNEL HARBOUR TOUR

Isambard Kingdom Brunel was the great Victorian engineer who made his name in Bristol, building railways, steamships and bridges that revolutionised travel.

Whether it was crossing countryside, valleys or oceans, Brunel created new possibilities, including seamless travel from London to New York. He certainly left an indelible mark on the harbour – and the world.

See it all from a great vantage point.

GEOGRAPHY & URBAN REGENERATION

Designed to complement the GCSE Geography curriculum, this trip explores the changes from the heyday of the Port of Bristol, through its days of dereliction in the 1970's, to the regeneration in progress today.

We highlight changes in land use and planning policy, and debate their economic, social and environmental sustainability.

HARBOUR HISTORY

This general tour explores the evolution of the city through the ages.

The story begins with the first Anglo Saxon settlement and covers Bristol's rapid growth as port. We cover the development of the floating harbour, the influence of great Victorian engineer Brunel, the scars of bombing in WW II, the industrial decline in the 1970's and the harbour's ongoing regeneration.

BRISTOL TRADING CITY

Bristol always delivered the goods as a port, becoming second to London. From early luxury items like woollen cloth, wine, sugar and tobacco, to industrial essentials like coal, timber, iron ore and sand, it all came through Bristol.

Discover the evolution of Bristol as a trading city on this interactive trip with items for students see and touch.

FERRY FUN TOUR

There's no fun like ferry fun. This tour is designed for breakaway days and residential visits and takes a light-hearted look at Bristol through the ages.

Students will hear stories about the harbour, learn about everyone from Blackbeard to Brunel, see history up close, spot wildlife,
